

Christmas 2020

YAWN! I woke up and by my surprise it was 8 O'clock I was surprised because it was Christmas morning and normally I would wake up at 6AM not 8! I ran into Ali's room because the night before he said I could I wake him up after 7AM and it was 8 so I woke him up and he woke up and Thomas was already awake we all went in to our parents room and me my brothers and my mum went downstairs where we left our stocking the night before but my dad didn't want to get out of bed I opened the door to downstairs and saw all my amazing presents in my stocking but one AMAZING present was holding my stocking it was a GIANT teddy bear that was literally 2x bigger than me I instantly took my stocking of the teddy and gave it a big hug! I named it Blitzen and I took my stocking and Blizen upstairs and opened all of my presents from my stocking then I got dressed and did my hair I went to church and after that I opened up my presents and I got:

Mum and Dad: Hair straighteners, a really fluffy blanket, lots of Hollister clothes and LED lights

My Aunty: a lip balm making kit and a calligraphy kit

My Godmother: flamingo lights and a really long sausage dog hot water bottle.

My Godfather: a paper town book that you colour in the take the shapes out of the book and build the little houses and shops

My Grandpa: a sketch book and the first book of a series

I haven't got my presents from my other grandparents yet but I'm sure I'll love them! But then I went on a walk with my Godmother/the Massey's After the walk we came back to my house and they got their puppy Labrador from their house and I had lots of cuddles with him. His name

WAS
Packo and we had some drinks as it was such a lovely day then they went home and we just chilled out until we had our Christmas dinner it was so nice and then we had a family zoom at 3pm with my cousins and both grandparents we had a Quiz and then we played Cludo [a board game] and that sums up my...
